

Now free the innocent

Sunday, 07 August 2016

I cannot stress strongly enough how significant this is. At last a representative of the ruling elite in this country - the media - is announcing that the False Allegations Industry exists.

That police assist witnesses and lie (as we saw at Hillsborough). That lawyers, under the fake pretence of helping survivors get closure, actively encourage lies and exaggeration in order to get cash from dead peoples estates and innocent live victims. That much of the media turns a blind eye to dishonesty if there is a good story to publish.

Now my hope is that innocent wrongly convicted men and women get released before even more damage is done to their lives. David Bryant, Harvey Proctor, Lord Bramall, hundreds who have suffered can at least put it into the past.

Not so those who languish at great expense to us, the tax payers, and their families and friends.
