

Ethel and Ernest

Saturday, 29 October 2016

A delightful film with both comedy and sadness, magnificently executed and including a good soundtrack with one of my favourite Sixties hits, Little Things by Dave Berry. Worth tracking down and seeing. A clever and entertaining way of looking at the past 90 years.