

Sheer Decadence

Saturday, 08 November 2014

I went to LaDuree at Harrods after shopping for Iberico Ham, young grouse, caviar and other basics.

Talk about Camp and Decadence. It's worth going for the sheer, over-the-top decor, plush naked gilded statues of young women, gold breasts dangling above your Earl Grey Tea and delicious, cream filled cakes.

Packed, expensive and delightful.