

Tremeloes

Friday, 22 July 2016

- 1) does this mean the tide is turning?
- 2) it did not even go to court in 2017 - an outrageous delay for a start
- 3) perhaps now different guidelines will be given to police - NO, they must NOT be believed or disbelieved - an investigation must take place without any publicity
- 4) make the media - including social media - obey that law
- 5) tell the CPS that one persons word without any evidence is not enough to prosecute and manufacturing similar claims is not only wrong but conspiring to pervert the course of justice and
- 6) can we please now start freeing wrongly convicted victims of the False Allegations Industry and allow appeals by those who have already served their time for crimes which never took place.