

V2... what's going on?

Thursday, 16 February 2006

Well, we hear it's VERGIN' on an announcement... and there will be as many raised eyebrows as rabbits give birth to offspring... for some reason a very able UK executive (the ablest?) has been chasing hard but is set to be bitterly disappointed though some of us may not regard V2 as a jewel in any crown.
When the news breaks they will be toasting it in whisky.
