

United Biscuit Network decide to hang onto the crumbs...

Thursday, 23 February 2006

They won't be selling Music Week along with Boltmakers Weekly, Fetishists Monthly and their other unwanted titles. They have decided there's money in the old hooker yet. Only if they seriously improve the editorial content, we respectfully suggest.