

NEW  Plead Guilty

Friday, 24 February 2006

This is a song about the silent agreement between the courts, defence lawyers and police to spare time and effort in order to get convictions without too much expense.

I think the lyric says it all.

And believe me, I've known enough victims of this trick to know they are 100% true.

So next time you read about someone and think "they MUST be guilty; they pleaded guilty" - listen to this little song.

PLEAD GUILTY

Facing false allegations
