

OK; in the chaos and anarchy that is the chart at present, work this out...

Tuesday, 21 March 2006

GNARLS BARKLEY (much tipped here for months) sold 17,000 downloads last week - 7000 more than Orson at Number One - but did not qualify for the chart as it's not out yet.

Now...

Are those lost sales when it DOES come out?

And isn't the chart meant to reflect BEST SELLING TRACKS, not Tracks adhering to silly OCC rules which are by ladies with large busts singing opera on a Tuesday available through 2 chain stores at special prices...???

For God's Sake... let's have a simple chart.

What is selling most this week?

IS THIS TOO MUCH TO ASK?

Is this industry run by morons? (Only three letter word answers allowed).
