

The mad fortnight...

Saturday, 24 June 2006

It's going to be frantic.

For the next 2 weeks, World Cup fever reaches meltdown and Wimbledon takes place.

I'm not a big sports fan but I do love big events. I'm not even a huge tennis fan but I get glued to Wimbledon. And with both taking place at exactly the same time, my days are not my own.

The only sport I adore totally is baseball. If there was a baseball game on now, I'd be watching it.

Thank heavens there isn't (and my friends tell me my New York Mets are playing great this year).

So put on your seat belt and get ready for the ride of the year!
