

Philomena

Saturday, 02 November 2013

A delightful film; superb performance by Judi Dench, as expected, but the great surprise is how good Steve Coogan is.

Since he also wrote and produced it, he deserves all the praise he gets (and it could well win the Oscar).

Very upsetting but also deeply rewarding. The funny thing is - it does more for journalism than all his Leveson drama.

Lovely film.